What Excel Meant to Me: Brian competed in the early years of Excel. He was a terror on the courts during camp and after camp. After graduation he joined our staff where he coached for many years. "The "Excel Message was a major factor in developing my ongoing love for basketball. I am already passing those lessons on to my two year old son."

Career: Brian was one of the best guards in the East Bay in his career at Las Lomas High School. The Knights' Team Captain, he was a deadly shooter who led the Knights to some of their greatest seasons. He then went on to Skyline Junior College where he was a team captain and an All Conference Player. He then led Notre Dame College in Belmont to their first postseason appearance. Brian followed up his success at the JC level by being named Team Captain and an All Conference pick. Today, Brian is a very successful realtor for J. Rockliff Realtors in Walnut Creek.
